PROFILE

Over the past few years I followed the demand for custom created websites and currently a large portion of my work goes not only to develop a site built on good User Experience and great User Interface but also to create custom themed Wordpress CMS websites built on HTML5 and CSS3, including PHP, Javascript and jQuery next to some SEO work.

With a strong and solid foundation in art, print & design, multimedia and photography, I am a versed web designer and senior graphic designer. Years of experience have broadened my field of dexterity through work in 3D & computer animation, including working as animation director next to doing architectural, furniture, interior and technical visualizations.

At present time I am interested in leveraging experiences and abilities with new and challenging web projects.

QUALIFICATIONS

Strengths: Ambitious to create valuable and aesthetic work for clients, which serves their business needs. Hunger for clean code plus care for detail and quality work towards an end product which performs rock solid.

Proficiency: Strong conceptual understanding and problem solving approach with the goal of improving and streamlining interaction and workflows. Creative background and broad knowledge of various software applications plus the ability to learn easily for any given task makes me versatile.

I work well on my own or as part of a team and have strong organizational and team leader abilities.

"Marlyse's love of learning brings a depth of expertise to my projects that I rarely find in other web designers/developers." — M.J.L.

mStudios - USA / 1997 – Present (16 years)
owner
info: Next to serving my own clients I do also contract work. Over the past few years I followed the demand for custom created websites and I use all my abilities to deliver sites with a great design, built on good UX/UI and clean, web conform code.

Salva O'Renick - Kansas City, Missouri / Jun 11 - Jan 12 (8 months) front-end web-developer
info: I came in as Contractor to create HTML5 / CSS3 websites, interlaced with some jQuery for several Django CMS builds: some Microsites but also large scale projects, such as http://www.rockhurst.edu/.

RECOMMENDATIONS

"In the years that I've known and worked with Marlyse Comte, I can easily say that she is a "go to" expert in the business of creating and developing cost-effective web marketing solutions for our range of clients. Marlyse has always offered our company highest value and highest quality on web builds, as well as excellent advice on solutions to common functionality issues. I would recommend her service again and again." – Steven James Scearce

"Marlyse has been involved in a number of web development projects with me; she always brings creative and technical skills to the project, and when she doesn't know how to do something she very clearly states what she is able to learn and take on and what is beyond her skill set. She has very strong creative sensibilities and is well versed in modern site development (CSS, PHP, search engine optimization work, and so much more). I would not hesitate to hire her for any project where I can't personally take it on myself." – Bear Weiter

"Marlyse is a joy to work with and can always be relied upon to come in on time and on budget. She is able to take a minimal amount of information and somehow come up with a solution that not only works, but looks great as well." – John Slater

"Marlyse knows her stuff. She has written several HTML websites laced with heavy, great quality CSS. If there were any issues with the build, related to programming, or functionality, Marlyse would not hesitate to correct them or to provide support for the code and the turn around time has always been beyond expectations. I believe Marlyse knows what she is doing, and is an excellent choice for a web production artist in any case." – Nicholas Kurucz
